

4-Queens Exterior
Making Peace with Mother Nature

By

Theresa Chaze

INT. HOME OFFICE: DAY

Comfortable home office with computer equipment, a large desk, comfortable desk, chair, hanging house plants in front of both windows, and book shelves filed with books and pictures. Calvin (30-something man) sits at his desk, working on his computer. Tapping starts on the outside of his house. Startled, Calvin gets up from behind his desk.

EXT. CALVIN'S HOUSE: DAY

A well-maintained yard with trees, shrubs and flowers. A woodpecker pecks a hole in the wood siding of the house. Calvin walks out.

CALVIN
Stop that! Go away!

The woodpecker flies away. Calvin goes back inside.

INT. HOME OFFICE: DAY

Calvin sits behind his desk. The tapping starts again. He runs out.

EXT. CALVIN'S HOUSE: DAY

The woodpecker continues to make a hole in the siding. Calvin runs out.

CALVIN
(angry)
I told you to stop!

The woodpecker flies around the yard and returns to the same spot.

CALVIN
(angrier)
I said go away!

The woodpecker stick his tongue out, laughs, and stats a new hole. Frustrated, Calvin goes back inside.

INT. HOME OFFICE: DAY

Calvin searches on the internet. He he finds the 4-Queens Exteriors logo Four connected silver crowns in a circle with the "4-Queens Experiors" on the inside of the circle. The phrase "Helping homeowners make peace with Mother Nature for over 10 years" beneath in a half circle, like a smile.

CALVIN
(dial his phone)
I need your help.

EXT. CALVIN'S HOUSE: DAY

The woodpecker has made many holes in the siding and is starting a new one. The 4-Queens Exteriors truck pull into the driveway. Four women get out and bring tools to the house. The woodpecker flies away. The women star putting the new siding on the house.

EXT. CALVIN'S HOUSE: DAY

The house has new vinyal siding. The woodpecker returns. He tries to grab on to the new siding. With a slide wistle sound he slides off and hits the ground. The woodpecker tries again. The same results. Angry, the wookpecker swears at the house and flies away.

4-QUEEN'S LOGO

Full screen logo.

ANNOUNCER
Four Queens Exteriors. Helping owners make peace with Mother
Nature for ten years.